

CALL FOR PAPERS philosophy of BIOLOGY

7th Annual University of Calgary Graduate Philosophy Conference | May 3-4, 2018

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Roberta Millstein (UC Davis)

Marc Ereshefsky (University of Calgary)

SENIOR PARTICIPANTS:

Megan Delehanty (University of Calgary)

C. Kenneth Waters (University of Calgary)

We invite submissions on any topic in the philosophy of biology, including but by no means limited to:

- Causation, Explanation, Reductionism
- Laws, Modeling, Mechanisms
- Levels and Units of Selection
- Organization, Emergence, Function
- Ecosystems, Climate Change
- Species, Taxonomy
- Human Nature, Nature-Nurture
- Natural Kinds
- Developmental Biology, Evo-Devo
- Scientific Metaphysics
- Values in Biology
- Biological Individuality
- Selection, Fitness, Adaptation
- Major Transitions
- Causation in Biology
- Biological Representation, Experimentation

To submit a paper for the conference, we require (I) an abstract of roughly 300 words and (II) either a paper draft or a long abstract of roughly 1500 words (excluding footnotes and bibliography), submitted as electronic attachments (.docx, .doc, or .pdf). Draft papers/long abstracts should be prepared for blind review. For further information, contact philbio2018@gmail.com.

Please send your submission via ucalgarygradconference.wordpress.com by February 1, 2018.